Hugs & Kisses

Instructions:

Match a solid and print 10" square, making sure that the nap is going the same direction on each side, and then spray- fuse them together. Make 36 sets.

Using a pinking blade and an 8 1/2" circle template cut each set into a circle. Lay the circles out in a 6 x 6 grid and create the desired design. Refer to pattern cover for layout. I choose to alternate the solid circles with the print ones.

Using the 6" square ruler, draw a square in the exact center of each circle. On the outside rows, do not draw the lines on the outside edges. I like to keep the nap going the same direction so I placed 3 rows so the nap went out from the center to the outside edge on each end.

Pair two circle units, wrong sides together.

Carefully match your drawn lines and sew the circle units together in rows of six units each. It is easier to work in strips, but be sure to use a lot of pins as the Cuddle is slick and stretchy. As the rows of circles are sewn you can see the pattern of the circles begin to form.

I used freezer paper as a shield and sprayed the 505 under the petals so I could "glue" them in place for easier stitching.

After you have sewn your quilt together, go back and top-stitch around each circle using the serpentine stitch, or zig-zag, stitching close to the edge.

To complete the center points I added a pink Cuddle 3 yo-yo, placed hole down. Make yo-yo's by hand using the 2" circle template.
